e-waste collection launched in city

Electronic waste to be collected from homes on 17th of every month

Tejaswini Ananth Kumar (seen wearing spectacles), wife of late Union Minister Ananth Kumar and Managing Trustee of Adamya Chethana, Bengaluru, seen launching the e-waste collection in city this morning. Also seen are District Minister V. Somanna, MLA S.A. Ramdas and Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath.

Mysuru, Sept. 17 (PM&VNS)- To mark the 69th birthday of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the City BJP organised a one-day e-waste collection drive and named it 'Bharat Vikas Diwas.'

The Mysuru City Corporation, Mysuru Urban Development Authority, Karnataka State Pollution Control Board, Department of Education and Police Department along with private organisations such as Let's Do It! Mysore, GSS Foundation and Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) participated in the event held at Mysuru City Corporation premises this morning.

Speaking at the inauguration, MLA S.A. Ramdas, who is spearheading the campaign, said Pourakarmikas would collect e-wastes on 17th of every month and dump the same at the premises of all nine MCC Zonal Offices. Later, the collected e-waste would be auctioned and sold and the funds generated from the auction would be used for 'Green-Mysuru' initiative. Ramdas also said that various organisations in the city would be coming together on Oct. 17 to launch a drive against use of plastic in Mysuru.

The special guest for the event, Tejaswini Ananth Kumar, wife of late Union Minister Ananth Kumar and Managing Trustee of Adamya Chethana, Bengaluru, said it is not enough to just collect e-waste from homes but what matters is its disposal and she hoped MCC would help in this matter.

She also mentioned that on Sept. 22, they would be celebrating late Union Minister's 60th birth anniversary and called upon people to adopt the concept of 'Zero Waste Kitchen' launched by Adamya Chethana in 2011, where the waste generated from kitchen could be used for producing biogas and manure.

Greats born in September

Tejaswini elicited laughter from the audience when she recalled how her late husband used to joke with PM Modi saying, "Three great personalities have been born in the month of September: Jan Sangh leader Deendayal Upadhyaya, PM Modi and Ananth Kumar." This made the PM smile, she added.

Earlier, the programme was inaugurated by school children by dumping e-wastes to MCC waste collection vehicle. Minister V. Somanna, MP Pratap Simha, MLA L. Nagendra, Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath, Deputy Mayor Shafi Ahmed, Corporator B.V. Manjunath, MCC Commissioner Gurudutta Hegde, MUDA Commissioner P.S. Kantharaju, DDPI Panduranga and others were present.

Mysuru, Sept. 17 (RKB & NNN)- As Dasara is nearing, District in-charge Minister V. Somanna visited Chamundi Hill early this morning to inspect the ongoing development works.

He inspected the multi-level car parking facility where 600 cars can be parked at a time and then moved to see the progress at the Commercial Complex where the work on 116 shops have almost been completed. However, it is not known when the parking facility will be inaugurated though it was scheduled for opening on Sept.19 or 20.

Democracy in 3-D mode

Agreeing to disagree or disagreeing to agree on a viewpoint as well as an action between two parties led to peacetime in the first case and to souring of relationships in the second. When one of the sides is administration embarking on measures ostensibly for the good of citizens, the other side comprises sections of the land's population, not seeing eye-to-eye as it were with the former party and disagreeing in toto generating reactions leading to consequences that the country's ever alert media has been reporting with graphic details 365 days a year to which the passive sections of society prefer to remain as mute witness. The response, nay violent reaction by the multitude of outfits taking up the cause of the sections targeted by the unsuspecting administration snowballs to tossing India's democracy in 3-D mode —Dissent, Demonstration, Disruption. Even as the nation has slid to this mode and its diaspora is watching with bated breath, leaders of a new genre are emerging accompanying followers, most of whom have axe to grind and also scores to settle. The leaders gobbling cash carved out of public funds and becoming nouveau riche, leaving the followers in the street as it were doesn't need elaboration.

Looking back, the event of the country coming under self-rule had its euphoric moments despite partition that was witness to lawlessness and loss of lives in lakhs. What has been happening in the country over the past half century, thanks to its 3-D image, doesn't see its masses in good light.

The measures introduced with adorable intentions by successive Governments both at the Centre and the 36 States and Union Territories (lately 38), driven by the principle of equality, liberty and fraternity don't seem to have gone down with different sections of the land's masses. Two such measures introduced just a week ago, namely hiking of penalties for violation of traffic rules and merging of public sector banks serve as immediate examples of what results when the two sides disagree to agree with the measures. There are scores of instances in which followers of the neo-leaders, charged with acts not permitted by the country's laws, take to the street, first to express their dissent, next to demonstrate and finally disrupt the life of people, in addition to destroying public property and even hurting gullible citizens.

The fourth dimension, extending the nation's 3-D representation of Democracy comprises a) Occupancy of jails across the country outstripping their space three-fold, b) Cases pending in the land's courts reportedly in excess of three crore, c) Police force all at seas in their task of reining in law-breaking sections of society. Yet, the nation staying intact is nothing short of miracle.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Nothing much has been done about educating the children on traffic rules. Once I asked a couple of traffic men on the difference between yellow line and white line on the road, or a firm line and broken line, single line or double line, they could not answer. I am sure half of India cannot answer these. If we insert a chapter on traffic rules for students of classes 6 and 7, teaching them all about road safety, road signs, dos and don'ts with the help of visuals, it will make an impact on their growing minds and temperament. They'll learn about the rules and might follow them of their own accord. Further, the quality of roads needs to improve, the traffic signs on the road need to be visible.

Humanoid vehicle bags Guinness World Record

Tokyo: Developers at a Japanese company bagged the Guinness World Record for largest humanoid vehicle when they constructed a 27-foot, 9-inch tall tribute to anime robots.

The company, Sakakibara Kikai, was awarded a Guinness certificate to the two-legged vehicle, named MONONOFU.

Masaaki Nagumo, one of MONONOFU's developers, said it took about six years to design and build the vehicle, which is modeled after the giant robots piloted by the heroes of various Japanese animation movies and TV shows.

Nagumo said the developers realized at one point that their creation would be too large to fit through the shutter doors of the warehouse where it was assembled. MONONOFU's head has to be removed whenever it is taken outside for a test drive.

Message in bottle helps rescue stranded hikers

California: A family of hikers who were stranded above a 40-foot waterfall in California were rescued after strangers found a message in a bottle with request for help.

Custis Whitson, 44, said he was backpacking the Arroyo Seco River with his girlfriend and his 13-year-old son and after about two and a half days of trekking, they ended up at the Arroyo Seco narrows, a spot on the river surrounded by 40-foot walls of solid rock.

Their calls for help went unanswered, so they carved "Help" on a Nalgene water bottle and inserted a note reading: "We are stuck at the waterfall -- get help please." The family tossed the bottle over the waterfall and set up some rocks on a tarp reading "S.O.S." to help rescue crews find them.

Two hikers found the message in a bottle and contacted authorities to begin a search. Hours later, they were found by a California Highway Patrol helicopter.

5-km 'Jumboo Savari' route to have 199 cameras

One CCTV camera every 25 metres to prevent sabotage

Mysuru, Sept.17 (RK&BCT)- Like previous years, this Dasara too will be a fool-proof Dasara and the city Police have taken measures to ensure that the festival passes off smoothly and is crime-free. And for this, they have relied on technology and have procured 199 special CCTV cameras from private agencies in addition to the 64 cameras spread across the city.

All visuals captured by these cameras are monitored at the Automation Centre set up at the City Police Commissioner's Office and staff and senior officers are constantly visiting these centres. Any illegal activity is captured live on the cameras. The special 199 cameras will be installed at vantage points on the Jumboo Savari route from Mysore Palace till Bannimantap.

It is a five-kilometre stretch and if 199 cameras are installed on the Jumboo Savari route, that means there will be one CCTV camera for every 25 metres. This is to ensure that it will be an incident-free Dasara where there is tight control of law and order.

A CCTV camera (circled in red) installed at K.R. Circle in city.

Deputy Commissioner of Police (Crime and Traffic) B.T. Kavitha and Police team inspecting a visual relayed from a CCTV camera in city at the Automation Centre set up at the City Police Commissioner's Office.

KEEPING TABS ON CROWD

The cameras will help the Police keep tab on crowds and pick-pockets. In addition, the cameras will enable the Police to detect transport of ammunition, explosives, hard cash and other materials from one place to another and gather information on suspicious persons entering the city. Such information can be effectively used to foil terror strikes and sabotages.

AUTOMATION CENTRE

In addition to the 199 cameras, visuals from 64 cameras installed across the city are being monitored 24x7 at the Automation Centre.

Eight to nine giant screens have been set up at the Centre and teams of officers are keeping a close watch on the screens. Information will be immediately passed on to the jurisdictional Police and Police patrol teams in case of trouble and the respective Police teams can intervene and round off the trouble-makers and suspicious persons.

MOBILE COMMAND CENTRE

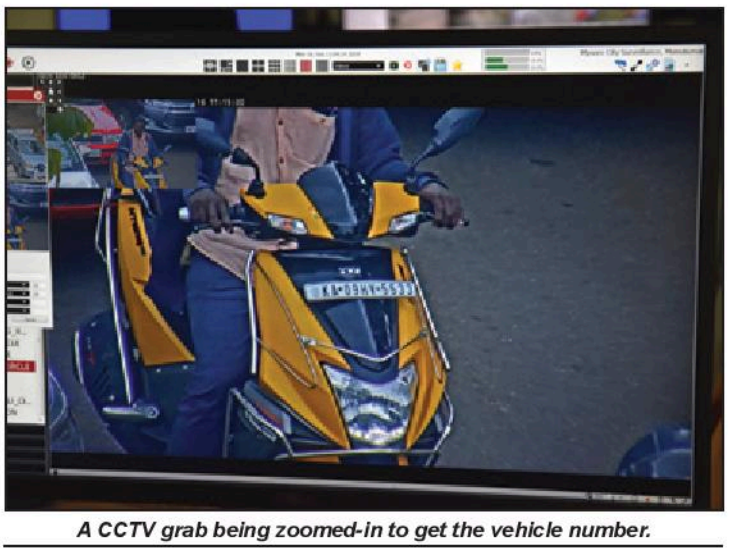
This apart, the full-fledged Mobile Command Centre vehicle will work round-the-clock this Dasara to respond to any emergencies. This state-of-the-art Command Centre was used for the first time last year and the Police have been using that vehicle in city ever since. The Command Centre, on which Rs.2.16 crore has been spent, helps surveillance especially during bigger events like Dasara. Equivalent to a thousand eyes within a large area, the Command Centre (a hi-tech vehicle, which has all the features of a Police Control Room) will be on the move to capture all the action, live at all the places where it is stationed.

19 CAMERAS AND A DRONE

The Command Centre has 19 cameras including four around the mobile unit, four jacket cameras and a drone camera. The mobile unit could effectively do the work of over 50 Police personnel on ground. It would be easy to keep vigil on activities of miscreants. The drone camera can take high-resolution photos of the ground even from a height of 300 metres and can cover a distance of half-a-kilometre.

The Command Centre vehicle has four fixed cameras at the top and one zoom camera that can capture images and visuals up to one kilometre radius. Photos and live visuals can be relayed to the Control Room at City Police Commissioner's Office.

The vehicle can house 30 Police personnel inside at a time and during Dasara, the Command Centre vehicle will be used at places where there will be maximum crowd such as Yuva Dasara, Vijayadashami procession and the Torchlight Parade.



A CCTV grab being zoomed-in to get the vehicle number.

VOICE OF THE READER

Stop throwing waste food articles at street corners

Prevent 'dogs dinner' menace

Sir,

Mysureans, who are increasingly responding to the call for swachchata in the city, are finding it difficult to counter situations like the ones in the photo above. Reasons: First, MCC is finding it difficult to control the ever-increasing population of street dogs in the city for reasons known to everybody — objections from animal-lovers and absence of strict laws for elimination.

Secondly, throwing of household wet waste containing food articles by some irresponsible citizens at street corners. Since dogs also want to eat and live, some of them carry such packets away from the dumps, open, spread, eat what is palatable and leave the rest since they are not governed by swachchata manners.

If we have to counter this 'dogs dinner' menace, Pourakarmikas/ Health Inspectors of MCC must identify chronic spots, be on prowl, also use visuals captured through CCTVs around, watch for people who are habituated in throwing wastes in street corners, book them with heavy fines, get their identity, photo and print in local newspapers and put them to shame.

District Ministers appointed

CM retains Bengaluru Urban District; Dy.CM Dr. Ashwath Narayan gets Ramanagar; R. Ashoka entrusted Mandya

Bengaluru, Sept. 17 (VNS)- Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa announced the list of District in-charge Ministers here yesterday. Though it was speculated that Deputy CM Dr. C.N Ashwath Narayan would be named as Bengaluru Urban District In-charge Minister, CM Yediyurappa retained the district with him.

The appointment of District Ministers has been made with utmost care considering the alleged internal disputes within the BJP. The CM has ensured that even the disqualified MLAs are satisfied with the appointment of Ministers. It was said that both R. Ashoka and Dr. Ashwath Narayan wanted the control of Bengaluru Urban. However, both were denied the chance.

While Ashoka has been entrusted with Bengaluru Rural and Mandya, both districts which are Vokkaliga bastion, Dr. Ashwath Narayan has been named as in-charge Minister for Chikkaballapura and Ramanagar districts, which is also a strong Vokkaliga stronghold.

B. Sriramulu, who is the Minister for Health and Family Welfare, has been named as in-charge Minister for Raichur and Chitradurga. There were reports that Sriramulu wanted Ballari as he is a native of that district. However, it is said that the district has been reserved for disqualified MLA Anand Singh.

Another disqualified MLA Ramesh Jarkiholi, who spearheaded the disgruntled MLAs against JD(S)-Congress coalition Government, would be made the in-charge Minister for Belagavi. But for that to happen, the disqualification case pending before the Supreme Court has to be cleared. For now, Jagadish Shettar, who is the in-charge Minister for Hubballi-Dharwad has been given the additional charge of Belagavi. Meanwhile, another Dy.CM Laxman Savadi, a former MLA of Atani in Belagavi, has been made the in-charge of Ballari and Koppal.

Kerala Govt. for recruitment exams in Kannada

Thiruvananthapuram, Sept. 17- If all goes well, Kannadigas living in Kerala might soon write job recruitment exams in Kannada language. Yes, the Kerala Government has recommended to the Kerala Public Service Commission (KPSC) to give question papers for recruitment tests to higher posts in State services in Malayalam as well as in Kannada and Tamil.

Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan held discussions with the KPSC authorities yesterday in view of an indefinite stir by social and cultural activists demanding that question papers for Public Service Commission (PSC) exams meant for recruitment to posts with degree as basic qualification should be given in Malayalam also. At present, question papers to these posts are given in English only, whereas question papers for recruitment to posts requiring plus-two (12th or II PUC) and below qualifications are given in Malayalam, Kannada and Tamil.

The CM told after the meeting that the Government recommended to the KPSC to provide question papers for recruitment to higher posts in Kannada and Tamil also, apart from Malayalam, considering the number of Kannada and Tamil-speaking people in the State.

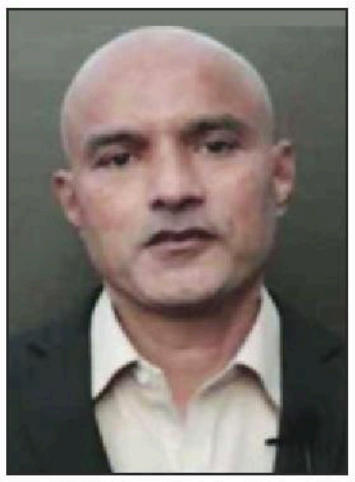
Kulbhushan Jadhav case at ICJ: An insider's account

Mysuru-born Kartikeya Garg, now a final year degree Law student of Christ University, Bengaluru, had an opportunity to undergo a month-long course on Public International Law at the famed International Court of Justice (ICJ), The Hague, Netherlands, in July this year. The selection was through competitive process. During his stay there, he was witness to the hearing on the high-profile case of Kulbhushan Jadhav.

Kulbhushan Jadhav, an Indian national, was arrested by the Pakistan Government on March 3, 2016 on the allegations that he was spying for India's intelligence agency, the Research and Analysis Wing (RAW).

In this incisive piece, Karitekya Garg, son of Aparna Garg, Divisional Railway Manager (DRM), South Western Railway (SWR), Mysuru Division, has penned his observations watching the Court proceedings. — Editor



Kulbhushan Jadhav

By Kartikeya Garg

July 17, 2019. A bright sunny day greeted the otherwise overcast and windy "International City of Peace and Justice." The Hague, the administrative capital of the Netherlands, which houses the International Court of Justice (ICJ), was gearing up to hear the Court's verdict on one of its most high-profile cases in recent times.

Normally, quite quiet (considering one sees more bicycles than cars on roads), scores of journalists had swarmed outside the beautiful gardens of the Court as early as 8 am. It was India Vs Pakistan, a storied rivalry that transcended, far beyond the cricket field. It involved a man's life, and the Court was given the difficult task of determining whether Pakistan had the right to execute an Indian national (who was allegedly a spy), Kulbhushan Jadhav.

As a final year law student from India, who was attending a three-week course in The Hague, I was fortunate to have the opportunity to attend the proceedings where the ICJ delivered its judgement in the case. The ICJ consists of 15 Judges from all around the world, who are elected by the United Nations General Assembly for a term of nine years, with an option of one re-election.

Currently, the Bench consists of India's own Justice Dalveer Bhandary as well. In this case, an ad hoc Judge was appointed from Pakistan, Justice Tassaduq Hussain Jillani taking the number of Judges up to 16. However, at the time of the verdict, we were informed that three Judges had recused themselves from the hearing.

Sitting in the public gallery of the "Great Hall of Justice" of the Peace Palace, its balcony provided the perfect vantage point of the mood of the Court.

The audience consisted of only the Indian and Pakistani delegations, as well as some of us privileged persons sitting at the end of the Hall and on the balcony. The nervous silence of the two delegations was broken only by the constant shutter sounds of the Press, furiously trying to record whatever snippets they could before they were escorted out of the Court Hall and into a separate Press Room where they could hear the verdict.

Grandeur of Court Hall

The profession of Law generally, and Court Halls specifically are not associated with colour and over-the-top grandeur. Usually, when one thinks of the profession, one imagines monochromatic robes and a simple wooden décor. The Court, however, was a total contrast.

Aptly named the 'Peace Palace,' the first thing that caught my eyes were four massive church-like windows that covered two walls of the Hall, covered in stained glass with fascinating artwork, while a large colourful painting (suggestive of Justice but with largely Catholic overtones) covered the other side.

In the front of the Hall lay a massive wooden Bench; behind which 13 white, comfortable looking chairs were placed (the one in the middle slightly bigger, reserved for the President) for the great legal stalwarts who would decide the fate of Jadhav. The name and symbol of the International Court of Justice adorned the front of the Bench (in both its official languages, English and French) and the wooden floor was sprawled with a huge colourful carpet, behind which sat on either side the Indian and Pakistani delegations, waiting in eager anticipation.

As the Judges, clothed in their black robes and white knitted collars, walked into the Hall in a single file and took their respective seats on the imposing Bench, they were met with a staunch stillness as the audience rose from their seats in a show of respect. President of the ICJ, Justice Yusuf asked the audience to sit and proceeded to give out a landmark verdict.

The President specified that he would only be reading the decision and the operative part of the judgement, rather than its entire text. For the next one-and-a-half-hours, the President spoke in an intriguing monologue, as the Court awaited its final verdict. Throughout, I sat in the balcony fervently making notes, trying to keep up with the learned Judge and making sure every detail was absorbed and recorded.

Before analysing the judgement, however, it is important to understand the arguments and versions of facts given before the Court by both India and Pakistan during their arguments (that ran for four days, between Feb. 18 and 22, 2019), which the President left out from his reading of the judgement (but finds place in the official text which can be availed on the Court's website).

ICJ's Judgement

The Court, through the course of its decision, held that Pakistan had breached its obligations under international law and the VCCR (Vienna Convention on Consular Relations) — consequently, it upheld all of India's contentions. Calling Pakistan's actions an "internationally wrongful acts of continuing character," the Court directed Pakistan to give Jadhav full Consular access and must inform him of his right so that he can arrange for effective legal representation.

However, with respect to the conviction and sentencing by the Pakistan Military Court, the ICJ declared that looking into the internal process of the former would lie outside the scope of its jurisdiction. Nonetheless, the Court held that in order to give effect to the VCCR, "an effective review and reconsideration of the sentence and conviction" would be necessary. The means of such review, however, were not specified, with the Court allowing Pakistan to decide "by means of its own choosing," rather than to grant India its prayer to try Jadhav in a Civil Court.

Lastly, the Court ordered a continuing stay on the execution of Jadhav, until an effective review and reconsideration took place. This decision was unanimously given by all 15 permanent Judges of the ICJ. The lone dissent came unsurprisingly from the ad hoc Judge from Pakistan, Justice Jillani.

With this, the President concluded his monologue, and the operative part of the judgement was repeated by an interpreter in the other official language of the Court, French. Soon after, a package containing the judgement, marked with the red seal of the Court, were passed on to both delegations. As the audience rose while the Judges graciously left the Hall, we too were subsequently escorted out and back into the crowd outside the gates of the Peace Palace.

Jadhav case: Conclusion

It means that Jadhav will not be executed in the near future. Rather, he will probably have a trial and full Consular access, which means the Indian Government can arrange for proper legal representation to have a fully transparent judicial process within Pakistan.

The Court's decision was very well-reasoned and pin-point, straying away from all the political issues that naturally arise in such a case (which were in fact brought up in the arguments made by both sides). It focused solely on the existence of an international obligation, and the consequent breach of such obligation, along with a rational interpretation of the VCCR.

A possible concern that a lot of people have is what happens if Pakistan does not abide by the ICJ ruling and decides to execute Jadhav irrespectively (considering the ICJ does not have a strict enforcement mechanism per se). This I believe is not going to be the case, since it would lead to immense political pressure from the international community on Pakistan and would be detrimental to Pakistan's reputation before the international sphere and the ICJ, which in all honesty it cannot afford.

India, on the other hand, has been quick to celebrate the verdict, with some reporters calling it "a crushing victory" and "massive humiliation for Pakistan." This is also not the case. Although the Court has sided with India, its decision does not expressly grant India the relief that it claimed for. It has not explicitly stated that Jadhav's trial is going to be in a Civil Court. Rather, it allowed Pakistan to provide effective review and reconsideration by means of its own choosing. This means that Pakistan can still try Jadhav in a Military Court, which can create the same issues that India has complained about through the course of its arguments.

The only real victory for India is that Jadhav finally has Consular access, which under international law, is a right bestowed on him. Nonetheless, one can be sure that this is not the last page in this long and winding story between the two States (involving one man) ■

Butterflies and all things good

Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

When you are a downside-up man condemned to horizontality in bed, you start imagining that the world is plotting against you. A butterfly on the window or an itch on the left hand are seen as messages meant for you. Across cultures, the butterfly is a symbol of hope indicating good days ahead, while a left-hand itch is a pointer to impending loss of money. (If it's the right hand, you gain money.) All that is fine, but why should a man, just because he is tied to a bed, be taunted by butterflies and a left itch at the same time?

I was beginning to think that some jealous columnist, unable to achieve my level of universal popularity, must have plotted to deprive my pen of ink. Suddenly, a smiling butterfly caused a pleasurable itch on the right hand and told me that I had become the Chosen One. Horizontality was a privileged position, she said, because I would now have the power to see what no one else could see and understand the undercurrents of events that no one else could understand.

Just as she said, I can now see the invisible small print that follows headline events. Consider the triumphant diplomatic exercise that our Prime Minister carried out to win international support to our integration of Kashmir into India. Three of the UN's Big Five, namely France, Russia and the US, told him that Kashmir was India's internal affair.

Then came the small print. France sent a special envoy to Delhi to clinch the sale of new Rafael fighter jets, Scorpène submarines and Caracal helicopters. Russia ensured that India paid $ 6 billion as initial instalment for the purchase of S-400 missile systems. Trump called for early steps for India's planned investments in the US energy sector. Once the hard bargaining was successfully completed, the three "friends" proceeded to cheating. They joined China and Britain so that the UN's Big Five could jointly reject India's stand that Kashmir was an internal matter. The US expressed concern over "detentions and continued restrictions on residents in J&K." The European Parliament took up Kashmir for discussion. How can our Prime Minister be subjected to such treachery?

Friends behave like enemies even in matters economic. The whole world knows that India is on the verge of becoming a $ 5 trillion economy (Please note the $ sign, no desi rupee.) This makes other facts and figures irrelevant. The Reserve Bank has released data showing that the destructive impact of demonetisation is continuing. The automobile industry is in doldrums with 3.5 lakh employees dismissed and a spokesman telling a Minister point blank that the note ban left people without money to buy cars.

There are other anti-nationals who say that for the first time India's GDP growth rate has fallen behind Pakistan's. It is behind Nepal's, Bhutan's and Bangladesh's as well. But the leaders of none of these countries have received high national awards from the UAE, Bahrain or France. Besides, why bring up such things when we are looking at $ 5 trillion?

Fortunately those who run the country have not lost sight of the national priorities. The systems that condition people's minds and run the institutions that govern our lives have all been reconfigured to serve One Nation, One Party, One Leader. Attempts by journalists to subvert this system are immediately suppressed. Recently, a journalist reported that school children in UP were served chappatis with only salt as accompaniment. The duty-conscious Yogi Adityanath Government immediately charge-sheeted the journalist. A Hindi journalist who put anti-Yogi comments on social media was arrested; he was later bailed out by the Supreme Court. Journalists have become a threat to Democracy.

Will the Judiciary also become a threat? Justice Deepak Gupta recently expressed views that would sound normal in a functioning Democracy but sounded ominous in today's India. Citizens "have the right to criticise the Government," he said. "Criticism of the Government by itself cannot amount to sedition." One of these days Yogi Adityanath will express the ultimate decision on that. Till then, we can munch on Jean Paul Sartre's words: "Fascism is not defined by the number of its victims, but the way it kills them."

P.S: The average life span of the butterfly, symbol of hope and all things good, is two weeks.

Kurubarahalli Survey No.4 and Alanahalli Survey No.41

Tahsildar stalls civil works at a fenced land at Chamundi Foothill

The land being levelled in front of the shrine of Chamundeshwari Paada and at right the picture shows the main road by the side of which a levelling was done.

Mysuru, Sept. 17 (RK&DM)- Even as the Government is yet to resolve the long-standing Kurubarahalli Survey No. 4 and Alanahalli Survey No. 41 row, with property and land owners in the two Survey numbers severely inconvenienced by the restraint on property transactions, it has now come to light that Revenue authorities have stalled land levelling works that were being carried out at a nearly two-acre land along the road leading from Indus Valley Ayurvedic Centre to Chamundi Hill near the main gate at the Hill footsteps.

Following public complaints that a few earth-moving machines were levelling the land which is fenced with barbed wires tied to stone poles painted in red and yellow located opposite the shrine of 'Chamundeshwari Paada' and Art of Living Centre, Mysuru Tahsildar T. Ramesh Babu directed Revenue Inspector Prashanth and Village Accountant Nagesh to visit the spot on July 21. The Revenue officials, who visited the spot, immediately stopped the works, it is learnt.

Village Accountant Nagesh told SOM this morning that following complaints of civil works being carried out, they rushed to the spot and stopped the works on July 21. However, one P.S. Subbarayappa, a resident of Kuvempunagar, who claimed to be the owner of the fenced land, submitted a letter to Deputy Commissioner on July 22, 2019 seeking permission to clean the land, which was rejected. He further said that the person had planted saplings at one portion of the land.

Total chaos reigns at DL issue campaign

Mysuru, Sept.17 (PM&NNN)- Utter chaos prevailed at the Driving Licence (DL) and Learning Licence Registration (LLR) campaign organised by the Bharat Informal Workers Initiative (BHIWI) as part of the Bharat Vikas Diwas to celebrate Prime Minister Narendra Modi's birthday today, at Dasara Exhibition Grounds. Thousands of hopefuls from different parts of the State had gathered trying to acquire a licence.

District Minister V. Somanna, who inaugurated the programme, said that it was due to the initiative of late Union Minister Ananth Kumar and MLA S.A. Ramdas that the Union Government removed the minimum education qualification for obtaining DL. This effort had resulted in such a huge number of people gathering at one place hoping to get the licence, he added.

One or two youths who had come, however, told Star of Mysore that they were under the impression that the DL was being given to them free of cost. But coming here the reality looked different. They said that they had filled the application form and were returning a tad disappointed.

People from as far as Ballari, Shivamogga, Chitradurga and other parts were seen gathered and trying to make sense of the chaos.

MLA L. Nagendra, Adamya Chetana Foundation Managing Trustee Tejaswini Ananth Kumar, Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath, Police Commissioner K.T. Balakrishna, DCP Muthuraj, Corporator Chayadevi and others were present.

Works atop Chamundi Hill

Meanwhile, the asphalting of the road where the shops leading to the Temple were razed is also underway. Somanna said that the beauty of the Temple will be enhanced and the devotion of the visitors will increase once the road leading to the sacred Temple wears a clean and sparkling look.

He asked the officials to speed up the works and see that they are completed by Sept.26 as the grand Dasara festival opening by littérateur Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa is slated for Sept.29.

Later, addressing the media, Somanna said that all development works will be completed by Sept.26 and fully ready for inauguration on Sept.29.

The shopkeepers have been given temporary permission to sell puja items till Oct.17 and later alternate arrangements made to locate them at a suitable place where shops will be built for them, he added.

He was accompanied by Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, MLAs G.T. Devegowda, L. Nagendra, Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar, Tahsildar Ramesh Babu, PWD Executive Engineer Vinay, AEE Raju and other officials.

SC adjourns rebel MLAs plea to Sept. 23

New Delhi, Sept.17- After Supreme Court (SC) Justice M.M. Shantanagoudar recused the hearing of rebel Karnataka MLAs plea challenging their disqualification from the State Assembly, the top Court today adjourned the matter.

When the matter came up for hearing before a three bench of Justices Shantanagoudar, N.V. Ramana and Ajay Rastogi, Justice Shantanagoudar recused to hear the matter.

Justice Shantanagoudar said that his conscience did not allow him to hear the case, even as senior advocates Mukul Rohatgi and Kapil Sibal insisted to hear him saying that they don't have any problem.

Justice Shantanagoudar was earlier a Judge in the Karnataka High Court. The bench thereafter adjourned the matter, which is likely to be heard on Sept.23.

After Operation Demolition atop Chamundi Hill...

Vendors given temporary permission till Oct. 17

Mysuru, Sept. 17 (RKB&NNN)- District in-charge Minister V. Somanna, bowing to the demand of the roadside and petty shopkeepers selling flowers, fruits and coconuts on the road leading to the Chamundeshwari Temple atop the Chamundi Hill, where their shops were demolished on Sept.12, gave them temporary permission to sell the puja items till Oct.17 in view of Dasara festivities.

He was on a visit to the Hill to inspect the ongoing works early this morning and soon after the inspection, held a meeting at Dasoha Bhavan for ten minutes, once the displaced shopkeepers urged him to reconsider his decision as they have been left with no source of livelihood since the past five days after they were evacuated.

Nayaka Samaja Okkuta Sangha leaders Devaraj Katur, Dyavappa Naik and BJP leader Appanna presented a memorandum on behalf of the shopkeepers to Somanna, asking him to make alternate arrangements. Listening to their woes, the Minister immediately convened a meeting and took the decision to temporarily permit them to sell puja items till Oct.17 when Chamundi Vardanthi celebration ends. He also said that only locals of Chamundi Hill must be given permission to set up their shops on the road that leads to the Temple.

Enchanting Vocal and Violin Duo

By Dr. Rama V. Bennur

N.R. Mohalla Ganapathi Temple is more known for its musical activities. Started 84 years ago, it has sheltered all the concerts of N.R. Mohalla Sangeetha Sabha. The Temple recently celebrated its 85th year Jayanti in collaboration with the Sangeetha Sabha.

The specialty of this two-day programme was two sets of Brothers performing Vocal and Violin! Malladi Brothers — Sreeramprasad and Ravikumar — gave a fine vocal concert on Aug.19 and Mysore M. Nagaraj and Mysore M. Manjunath performed a Violin Duet on the 20th.

These illustrious brothers enchanted the audience with a fine duo. All the four sang and played in perfect unison Malladi Brothers were accompanied by H.M. Smitha on violin and B.C. Manjunath on mridanga, while Mysore Nagaraj and Manjunath were accompanied by B.C. Manjunath on mridanga and Shreeshyla on ghata.

Malladi Brothers, who are known for their large repertoire, did present a few rare kritis in rare ragas. Sreeramprasad and Ravikumar have been well groomed by illustrious exponents of Karnatak music. Their rich and powerful voice can project the nuances of any raga with ease. They possess the skill and ability to move in the sphere of a raga like a veteran. Raga Kumudapriya and Todi were a good example for this. Ravikumar could touch the heart of the listeners with his powerful and soul stirring alapana. The traditional Todi was elaborated by both of them highlighting their scholarship. That was indeed a treat. They were so immersed in music that they were oblivious of the surroundings.

The compositions they presented too carried the sahithya bhava. 'Vara shikhi vaahana' (Supradeepa-Tyagaraja), 'Paahimam Shri Rajarajeshwari' (Janaranjani-Mahavaidyanathayyar), 'Ardhanaareeshwaram' (Kumudakriya - Muthuswami Dikshitar), 'Mama Hridaye' (Reethigowla - Mysore Vasudevacharya), 'Ninuvina gathi' (Balahamsa - Mysore Sadashiva Rao), 'Koluva Marakatha' (Todi - Tyagaraja), 'Maa Janaki' (Kambodhi - Tyagaraja) were all pleasing.

Smitha's violin matched perfectly with their singing. She was brilliant in her rendering of kalpana swaras. B.C. Manjunath's alluring rhythmic patterns were enjoyable.

Mysore Nagaraj and Dr. Manjunath are seasoned violinists of our city. Their reputation all over the world speaks of their quality of playing. The great emphasis placed on the nuances of the raga makes their concert enjoyable. They pleased the rasikas by playing very popular Keerthanas like 'Janani Ninuvina' (Reethigowla - Subbaraya Sastri), 'Pankaja Lochana' (Kalyani - Swathi Tirunal), 'Chinnachirukiliye Kannamma' (Ragamalike - Bharathiyar). The perfect understanding stands out in playing either the raga or the kriti. The melodic harmony captured the listeners till the end.

The most awaited part of the concert was a Raga-Taana-Pallavi set to Khanda Triputa Taala, which was presented for the choice of ragas by the audience. And they chose Bhairavi and Kapi! 'Nayaka Vinayaka Gana Nayaka Sakala Siddhi Pradayaka' was presented in a combination of these two ragas and later on in each of these ragas. A dash of Saveri and Hamsanandi added pep to it.

Manjunath and Shreeshyla deserve due credits for their wonderful support on the percussive instruments.

Gayana Sabha to host Hidustani Music Concerts

Gayana Sabha, Mysuru, has organised two Hindustani Classical Music Concerts at Vasudevacharya Bhavana, Sri Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha on Sept.22 at 5.30 pm.

The programme includes sitar recital by Ustad Shafique Khan and vocal recital by S. Hiranmayee. They will be accompanied by Bhimashankar Bidanur on tabla, while Vighnesh Bhagavat provides harmonium support.

Ustad Shafique Khan

Hiranmayee

Ustad Shafique Khan

A scion of Dharwad Gharana, Ustad Shafique Khan is sixth generation musician in the family of illustrious sitar players whose contribution in popularising sitar down the Vindhyas is legendary. He is grandson of 'Sitar Rathna' Rahimat Khan. Ustad Shafique was initiated to sitar at a very young age by his father Prof. Abdul Karim Khan who was Head of Faculty of Music at Karnatak University. He also received valued guidance from Ustad Dastgir Khan, Ustad Usman Khan and also from late Ustad Bale Khan — all well-known sitar players.

Naturally his style beautifully reflects the finer aspects of sitar playing of all his mentors. His meditative alaap, systematic development of raaga, magic of gamak taans, aesthetics and appeal are hallmarks of his sitar playing. His performances are melodious blend of both 'Gayaki Ang' and 'Tantrakari Ang.'

He is a top grade artiste of AIR and Doordarshan and has performed in National Programmes on many occasions. He has been conferred with many awards and titles by prestigious music organisations of the country. He has travelled to many foreign countries like US and in Europe and has performed extensively at reputed venues. Presently, he is on the music staff of AIR, Dharwad.

Some of his performances include — Sawai Gandharva Music Festival, Pune; Pt. Kumar Gandharva Pratishtan Dewas, MP; Deenanath Sangeet Sammelan, Goa; Hampi Utsav; Dasara Utsav and many more.

Ex-Rangayana Directors condemn sacking of Repertory Heads

Former Rangayana Mysuru Director Prasanna addressing a press meet at Pathrakartara Bhavan in city yesterday as Bhagirathi Bai Kadam, Prakash Garuda and Rajendra Chenni look on.

Mysuru, Sept.17 (MTY&DM)- Strongly condemning the State Government's decision to sack all four Rangayana Directors (Mysuru, Shivamogga, Dharwad and Kalaburagi) and to dissolve the Ranga Samaja, former Rangayana Directors asked the State Government to stop interfering in the affairs of Rangayana, an autonomous body.

Addressing a press meet at Pathrakartara Bhavan here yesterday, former Rangayana Mysuru Director and noted theatre personality, Prasanna, said that the Government has to explain the reason for the abrupt sacking of Rangayana Directors and the dissolution of Ranga Samaja, the decision making body of the repertories.

Questioning the action of the Government when the term of Rangayana Directors was still ten months left, he said that the Government's action is nothing but an interference in the working of an autonomous institution like Rangayana. Stating that the term of a Rangayana Director is three years, Prasanna wondered why Bhagirathi Bai Kadam was relieved when she had ten more months left.

Terming the Government's action as foolish, the veteran theatre personality, sympathising with Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa, he said that the CM may be unaware of the procedure and the Government may have acted on the 'advice' of officials.

Asking the Government to 'rectify its mistake of interference' in the interest of future Directors, Prasanna said that the Government interference will only lead to an impression that the Rangayana Head is either a 'BJP Director or a Congress Director.'

Urging the Government to stop meddling with the affairs of autonomous institutions like Rangayana, he maintained that a Rangayana Director cannot be removed without assigning a proper reason and the Government has not given an explanation for its action.

Explaining the functioning of Ranga Samaja, Prasanna said that it is the decision-making body of the repertories and has a completely autonomous character, which should not be disturbed by the Government through interference.

Relieved Rangayana Mysuru Director Bhagirathi Bai Kadam, in her address, said that she worked with responsibility throughout while serving as Rangayana Director at Mysuru.

Asserting that theatre personalities are not affiliated to any political parties, she said that she brought Rangayana to a stage where highest number of women applied to get theatre education in Rangayana.

Expressing disappointment over her sacking when she had nearly ten months left of her tenure, she expressed pain for being removed when the Rangayana was gearing up for Navaratri Rangotsava and other significant theatre activities.

Another former Rangayana Mysuru Director H. Janardhan said that the Government, which was supposed to focus on flood relief measure, had unnecessarily interfered with the affairs of Rangayana, which has deeply pained him.

Rajendra Chenni, also a former Rangayana Director, asked the Government to immediately reconsider its decision in the better interests of an autonomous institution like Rangayana.

Accusing the Govt. of attempting to politicise Rangayana, he urged the Government not to meddle in the affairs of Rangayana, which is working towards enriching our culture and theatre.

Former Rangayana Director Prakash Garuda too addressed the press meet and asked the Government to strictly maintain Rangayana's status as an autonomous theatre repertory.

Siddu's visit to Prof. Rangappa's residence sparks rumours

Mysuru, Sept.17- The meeting between former CM and CLP leader Siddharamaiah and JD(S) leader Prof. K.S. Rangappa, former VC of Mysore University and KSOU, over a breakfast at latter's residence in Bogadi here yesterday, has sparked rumours in political circles.

Prof. Rangappa, a relative of former PM and JD(S) Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda, added grist to the rumour mill by regretting the failure of the JD(S) leadership of not making use of his expertise as an Academician during the JD(S)-Congress coalition regime.

Prof. Rangappa, who had contested unsuccessfully from Chamaraja Constituency as the JD(S) candidate in the 2018 Assembly polls, is the second party leader from the district after former Minister G.T. Devegowda to publicly express disappointment with the party leadership.

Monday's breakfast meeting between Prof. Rangappa and Siddharamaiah assumes political significance, with the two also sharing dais at a book release function in the city on Sunday. At the function, Prof. Rangappa had not only praised Siddharamaiah's administration, but also hoped he would return as CM.

However, after Monday's breakfast meeting at Prof. Rangappa's residence, Siddharamaiah said, they were long-time friends and were together for a book release function on Sunday, when Prof. Rangappa invited him for a breakfast. Following the invitation, he visited Prof. Rangappa's residence on Monday and had breakfast and there was nothing more to it, he added.

Govt. cancels elevated corridor tender approved by Coalition Govt.

Bengaluru, Sept.17- Delivering a shock to former PWD Minister H.D. Revanna, the State Government on Monday cancelled the Bengaluru elevated corridor tender approved by the previous Coalition Government.

Revanna

The Government had invited tenders for the elevated corridor when H.D. Revanna was the PWD Minister. The tender was awarded for Rs.6,855 crore for the construction of 21.54-km of elevated corridor in Bengaluru city in the first phase. But the Govt. has now cancelled the tender and invited fresh tenders.

The elevated corridor was the brainchild of the previous JD(S)-Congress Coalition Govt., which had planned to construct 87.87-km of elevated corridor in order to de-congest traffic movement in the State Capital.

Apart from the cancellation of elevated corridor tender, Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa has ordered a probe into alleged irregularities in the implementation of Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY), following complaints of corruption in the construction of nearly 50,000 houses at a cost of Rs.2,661.84 crore.

The houses were meant for economically weaker sections and tenders for the same were invited in 2017-18.

Yediyurappa has sought a report within two months regarding irregularities in the project.

Among the other projects that are being probed include white-topping of Bengaluru roads, irregularities in Indira Canteens, procurements by Solid Waste Management Section of BBMP and construction of 'Krishi Honda' (farm ponds) by Agriculture Department.

WORD OF THE DAY

Bas-relief

Pronunciation: bah-rih-LEEF.

Meaning: Art : sculptural relief in which the projection from the surrounding surface is slight and no part of the modelled form is undercut; also : sculpture executed in bas-relief.
Origin: The best way to understand the meaning of bas-relief is to see one—and the easiest way to do that is to look at a penny, nickel, or other coin and examine the raised images on it; they're all bas-reliefs. English speakers adopted bas-relief from French (where bas means "low" and relief means "raised work") during the mid-1600s; earlier, we borrowed the synonymous basso-relievo from Italian. The French and Italian terms have common ancestors (and, in fact, the French word is likely a translation of the Italian), but English speakers apparently borrowed the two independently. Bas-relief is more prevalent in English today, although the Italian-derived term has not disappeared completely from the language.
Example: "Three [works] that caught my eye were Maksymowicz's solemn plaster bas-relief of bones and tools, Gina Michaels' bronze sculpture of a prickly pear cactus with pads in the shapes of human feet, and Burnell Yow's totemic found-object sculpture topped with an animal skull." — Edith Newhall, The Philadelphia Inquirer.

THE ODD WORD

Bagarre

Scuffle or brawl.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Barrel of laughs

Meaning: The source of abundant fun and enjoyment.

Origin: 'A barrel of laughs' is an archetypal example of what makes English such a rich language to speak and so frustrating for non-native speakers to learn - the idiom. Knowing the meaning of 'barrel' and 'laughs' is no help in deducing the meaning of the expression - which is the essential characteristic of idioms.
The expression began life as 'a barrel of fun' - 'barrel' in this context just meaning 'lots of'. It is first cited in documents found in the USA. This entry in the 1890 edition of Dialect Notes, under the heading 'A Word List from Montana', is an early example: Barrel of fun, n. phr. A good time. "I had a barrel of fun when I went to Maccasin." By the early 20th century the expression had morphed into 'a barrel of real laughs' and most early examples of that come from the UK. Here's an example from a newspaper review in the Burnley News, October 1924:
Thomas Meighan, the likeable Paramount star, is at the Savoy this week in "Woman Proof". It is a companion picture to "Back Home and Broke" with the same breezy fun, sharp satire and heart appeal, containing a "crackerjack" role for the star, with a barrel of real laughs.
